Dear Transfer Student:

Welcome to fall! I welcome you to Highline’s beautiful campus and wish you an exciting quarter. Fall is a good time to renew old friendships, meet new people, get to know your faculty adviser, and just enjoy exploring and learning new ideas.

I encourage you to take advantage of the many opportunities available to help you with your transfer planning. Please stop by the Transfer Center, Building 6, upper level, and browse through our transfer materials, use our computers, or speak with an adviser.

Remember, early planning is truly the key to a successful transfer!

Best wishes for a memorable quarter,

Siew Lai Lilley, Transfer Center Director

Phone#: (206) 878-3710, ext. 3936
Email: transfer@highline.edu
Web site: www.highline.edu/stuserv/transfer

Transfer Events
All events are free and no registration is required.

College Transfer Fair
Thursday, October 28, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Location: Highline Student Union, Building 8, 1st floor.

The College Fair features representatives from a variety of four-year colleges and universities. Start planning for a successful transfer today! Come by with your questions or to pick up application materials.

For a list of individual colleges scheduled on campus in the fall, including transfer workshops, please view our calendar at: http://www.highline.edu/stuserv/transfer/calendar.htm

Ask the Highline Adviser
Have a transfer question? A Highline adviser will be happy to help answer it! Send your question to: transfer@highline.edu.

Did You Know?
Central Washington University (CWU) share a campus with Highline and that you can be dually admitted to CWU and Highline? For details regarding the Dual Admission Program, including a list of CWU’s programs, go to: http://www.cwu.edu/desmoines/.

Be Inspired!
“A bird doesn’t sing because it has an answer, it sings because it has a song.” -- Maya Angelou

“Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off the goal.” -- Henry Ford
Spotlight on Transfer Student

Emi Miyao

Emi Miyao graduated from Highline with her Associate of Arts degree and transferred to Flagler College, a small four-year institution in Florida. She is currently majoring in business and is on track to complete her bachelor’s degree. After completing a year of study at Flagler, Emi has adjusted very well to her new school. She had explored her options for transferring and decided to attend an out-of-state college. When asked why she chose Flagler College, Emi cites the following reasons:

- Small student population (2716 students)
- Student-Faculty Ratio: 20 to 1
- Excellent instruction and programs
- Reasonable tuition cost (approximately $14,000 per year)
- Great weather and a nice town! The College is four miles from the Atlantic Ocean, in the historic tourist town of St. Augustine. The city is also the oldest European settlement in the United States.

Emi, sounds like you are enjoying your new adventure! We wish you the very best for your future!

For more information about Flagler College, visit www.flagler.edu

Transfer 101

Remember: It is never too early to plan your transfer!

Here are some great tips to follow:

- Connect with a Highline faculty or staff member. Talk to an adviser regularly—get a faculty adviser assignment from the Educational Planning & Advising Center, Bldg 6, or request an adviser assignment from the Ed Planning Web site: http://www.highline.edu/stuserv/edplanning/request.advisor.htm
- Contact your transfer school and attend an information session.
- If you are undecided about a major, request assistance from Highline’s Counseling Department, Bldg 6, or enroll in a Career 101 class.
- Connect with baccalaureate admissions representatives who visit Highline every quarter.
- Pick up a Transfer Checklist Card (bright green color) from the Transfer Center, Building 6, 2nd floor.
- Check out our valuable transfer resources at: www.highline.edu/stuserv/transfer

UW Seattle News Alert!

Beginning in 2011, prospective undergraduate students will no longer be able to apply for spring quarter admission at the Seattle campus of the University of Washington. This does not apply to the Bothell or Tacoma campus.

It is very important that you plan your UW transfer carefully by attending:

TRANSFER THURSDAYS AT THE UW

Every Thursday, Highline students are invited to stop by the UW Seattle for assistance with their transfer planning! Bring along your admission/major questions, including your unofficial college and high school transcripts for review.

For more information, go to: http://admit.washington.edu/Visit/TransferThursdays. You can sign up to attend a session.
Major Spotlight: Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology

“Speech pathologists and audiologists help people speak more clearly or hear better. Speech pathologists treat language and speaking disorders. They are often called speech-language pathologists or speech therapists. Speech pathologists evaluate clients’ ability to understand and produce language. They check clients’ hearing because poor hearing can affect the ability to learn speech. In addition, they check how muscles are working.

Audiologists treat hearing disorders and balance problems. They work to prevent hearing loss. Audiologists also use special instruments to test how well people can hear. They check whether people can hear the difference between sounds.”

Audiologists earn $62,030 per year (national median)
Speech pathologists earn $62,930 per year (national median)

Source: WOIS (www.wois.org)

To learn more about the above exciting professions, check out the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association: www.asha.org

In Washington state, the following universities offer programs in Speech Pathology and Audiology:
Eastern Washington University (www.ewu.edu)
University of Washington-Seattle (www.washington.edu)
Washington State University (www.wsu.edu)
Western Washington University (www.wwu.edu)

Cool Websites!

- Get connected to scholarships: www.thewashboard.org
- Access college profiles, course descriptions, and majors offered: www.collegesource.org
- Western Undergraduate Exchange-Enroll at participating two-and four-year colleges outside of Washington state at a reduced tuition rate: http://wue.wiche.edu
- Transferring to four-year independent colleges in Washington state: www.projectopportunity.net

WSU Online Degrees

Degrees earned online from WSU are the same as degrees earned on a WSU campus, from the quality of instruction to the diploma you will receive upon graduation. The following Washington State University degrees are available online.

- Business Administration – Accounting
- Business Administration – Management and Operations
- Business Administration – Management Information Systems
- Criminal Justice
- Human Development
- Humanities
- Social Sciences

For admission details, go to: http://online.wsu.edu/